NEW LICENSE LAW HERE TO INCLUDE OUTSIDE CONCERNS

Drastic Changes in Present Measure Contemplated as Study Started

TO BE READY JANUARY 1

E. E. Gray and J. F. Sawyer Preparing Revision of Local Tax Law

Complete study of the present city license ordinance, with a likely result of drastic changes, is today under way by Edward E. Gray, city attorney, and Chief of Police J. F. Sawyer. Suggestions are wanted from any business firm or individual and these are to be left with either Ernest C. Mehl, city clerk, or Mr. Gray.

It is understood by Mr. Gray the plasterers in the valley will recommend an inspection fee on the basis of a yard of material laid, rather than having any set city license fee.

It has also been suggested to him that a fee be placed on all newspapers. It is known the barbers of the city want a revision in the amount they have to pay and the contractors have appeared before the city council seeking a reduction.

Necessary revisions and changes will be made, and at the same time the placing of a city license may be extended to include firms sending bread trucks, farm products, agents and solicitors to the city. Some gasoline firms make a practice of filling up storage tanks in the residential and ranching district and these concerns may also be asked to pay a fee.

By Jan. 1, 1932, the ordinance is expected to be made effective and in the meantime study and discussion will be held concerning the measure.

Revenue from the ncenses aids in supporting the police department, inspection department and street department.

Investiture Service For Alta Loma Scouts

The Alta Loma Boy Scout troop had another of their very interesting meetings last evening, when four Scouts were given their tenderfoot pins. The lads thus honored and who had attained the proper efficiency in scouting to merit these badges are Philip Capen, John Orchard, Eugene Billings and Forest Eckenrode.

The event was held on the Scout grounds, where the boys have been provided about a two acre tract for their recreation, and where they also have a number of cabins O. A. Alderson of Pomona, head of the Scout organization in the Old Baldy district, and Lex Lucas, scout executive of the Chaffey district, were present at last evening's interesting affair.

Wilsons Return From Month's Trip in East

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow S. Wilson returned Sunday from a month's trip to eastern points, where they visited relatives and friends and on the return trip visited in Iowa and Phoenix, Ariz.

Body of Mrs. Marie Wilson, his mother, who died in July, was taken east when they left here, and was buried in Oak Woods cemetery, Chicago.

In Caledonia, N. Y., they visited Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Perhamus and Charles Perhamus, Mrs. Wilson's parents and brother, and later Mr. Wilson went to New York, where he visited his brother, Paul C. Wilson.

D. F. Walton Breaks Right Leg in Fall

Although he is still wearing a cast, DeForest L. Walton, who recently sustained a broken leg in an accident, is able to be up part of the time and can walk with the aid of crutches.

About three weeks ago Mr. Walton was trimming a tree at his home, 418 Second avenue, when his step-ladder became unstable and he jumped to the ground, turning his right leg in such a manner that the bone broke below the knee.

HEATER LAW TO BE EFFECTIVE IN '32

Measure Adopted by Supervisors Specifies Amount of Carbon Per Heater

San Bernardino county today has a new ordinance governing heaters, but it will not be effective until March, 1932.

This means that local growers will have a year in which to conform with the law and as outlined today by C. E. Grier, chairman of the board of supervisors, the measure in no way regulates the type or style of heater.

The ordinance limits the amount of carbonaceous matter to 20 grams per pound of fuel consumed. It was impracticable to require any improvement in the heaters for this season, due to the time required and for that reason the measure was made effective March 1 of next year.

Plan of adopting a temporary measure had been considered, but this was dropped when it was realized the growers would not have sufficient time in which to make the improvements.

Chaffey Cubs Play Webb School Today

Chaffey sophomores and the Webb school football team meet this afternoon on the Chaffey turf in a practice game.

Also on the football menu this week is the game tomorrow afternoon at Chaffey between the Upland junior high eleven and the Chaffey freshmen.

GEO. BELCHER IS RE-ELECTED HEAD OF CITRUS GROUP

Alta Loma Heights Association Hears Annual Report This Morning

430 CARS ARE SHIPPED

Robert H. Henderson Tells Growers of Activities; Banquet Tonight

ALTA LOMA, Oct. 27.—George L. Belcher was re-elected president of the Alta Loma Heights Citrus association in the annual meeting here today and all officers and directors were returned to office.

The session this morning marked the close of another successful year for the association, with 430 cars of oranges and lemons being shipped and with the returns being approximately $450,000.

One of the popular annual functions of the association will occur in The Sycamores tonight when the association members and their wives meet for a dinner and program. Many of the association members were present in the new packing house this morning to hear the annual report of Robert H. Henderson, secretary and manager.

L. M. Ledig was chosen first vice-president, and J. F. Grass, second vice-president, with Mr. Henderson being re-elected. On the board of directors besides the officers named are Nelson Van Fleet, G. S. Ferguson, Miss Gertrude Reid, W. E. Morse, and George Parsons.

One Minor Crash in Area Over Week-end

Only one minor automobile accident occurred in the Alta Loma district over the week-end to mar the traffic record in the territory. Two persons were injured, one being arrested later on a peace disturbance charge.

The collision occurred at Highland and Carnelian avenues in Alta Loma early Sunday morning. Albert Durant, Los Angeles, suffered a sprain of the left forearm and lacerations. He was removed from the San Antonio Community hospital yesterday after receiving treatment.

Salvador Gareala, driver of the other car, left the scene of the crash shortly after the arrival of a Stone ambulance and walked four miles to a ranch at Fourth street and Turner avenue. There he created such a disturbance police were called. He posted $25 as bail for his appearance before Judge James Sharp of Cucamonga.

Three Machines in Crash; No One Hurt

Three machines figured in an accident on Arrow route and Mountain avenue yesterday morning, but little damage was done and the drivers escaped without injury.

Newell Carlton, 1006 East Ninth street, was driving east on Arrow and Ruth Van Fleet, Cucamonga, was driving west. Ambros Romo, Ontario, was going north on Mountain. His machine was struck almost at the same time by the two cars on Arrow.

Tenth Street P.-T. A. Changes Meeting Day

Because the regular meeting day comes on Armistice day, the November meeting of the Tenth street Parent-Teacher association will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 4, according to an announcement made this morning by the president, Mrs. Hjalmar Anderson.

An interesting program is being prepared with Miss Edith Hanson scheduled as the speaker.

Lex Lucas to Fete Kiwanis Officials

Members of the Ontario Kiwanis club executive board, will be entertained tomorrow night at the home here of Lex R. Lucas, who is president of the club.

In January, the club will begin a new year and purpose of the meeting tomorrow is to plan events for the two remaining months.

Protection of School Children To Be Meeting Subject Tonight

Protection of school children along the highways and streets and in the vicinity of the school buildings will be the subject at a conference tonight. Members of the Upland board of education, the city council police committee, Harold W. Cook, school superintendent; J. F. Sawyer, chief of police, and Richard G. Manley, city service manager, will be present. The meeting to be held in police station.

Construction of an underpass on Tenth street in front of the Tenth street school appeared unlikely today, due to its unpracticability and the cost. An effort will be made to work out a system whereby the police and the school janitors can give further protection to the children as they arrive at and leave the school.

Mr. Sawyer said today that in San Bernardino large signs in the center of the highway effectively warn motorists to slow up and to stop at the crossings used by the children.

On the police committee are Fletcher H. Manker and Elmer Mathews. School board members included David J. Cameron, Glenn M. Atwood and Clyde DuVall.

J. R. EYSTER IS NEW COLLEGE HEAD

Successor to C. C. Burkholder Is Named for Beulah Group Here

J. R. Eyster has been elected temporary president of Beulah college, succeeding C. C. Burkholder, who as one of the founders served as president up until his death a short time ago. Mr. Eyster has been closely identified with the college in the capacity of field representative. The appointment was made by the board of trustees for an indefinite period.

David Hall has been elected president of the Beulah college student body, taking over the duties following his installation yesterday. He is attending college part time and is also serving as instructor in the wood shop. Cletus Naylor was installed as treasurer of the student body and Margaret Friesen was given the position of literary editor of The Echo, student publication.

These persons were installed to fill vacancies in the organization caused when students elected in the spring failed to return to school.

First issue of The Echo for the year has appeared with Gladys C. Bohen as editor. Others on the staff are Miss Friesen, literary editor; Sarah K. Wolgemuth, news editor; Mrs. William Lewis, religious editor; Howard Book, business manager; Everett Byer, assistant business manager; Allen Buckwalter, circulation manager, and Eva Oberholtzer, typist. Miss Alma B. Cassell is faculty advisor.

SCOUT HONOR KEY AWARDED UPLANDER

Paul Schowalter Receives Distinctive Honor for Five Years' Training

An honor in scout ranks equivalent to the honor of Phi Beta Kappa in scholastic circles is today held by Paul Schowalter, local citrus grower and for years active in scout work.

In the scout leaders' training course, ending at Chaffey Saturday night, Mr. Schowalter was presented with a scoutmaster's honor key. Presentation of this key marked the completion of five years of training in leadership courses. Only two others in the Old Baldy council have received such an honor, these being Judge E. H. Bowen of Pomona and H. A. Wheeler, La Verne.

Saturday night's event at Chaffey was marked by the presentation of the key to Mr. Schowalter and presentation of certificates to Harold Stickney, of Upland and Arthur H. Bridge and Ralph Mitchell of Alta Loma and Rev. J. M. Chamberlin of Cucamonga.

One hundred persons were present with Oscar Kirkham, regional executive, Salt Lake, being the speaker. Glenn D. Smith presided. The certificates were presented by Dr. Aubrey Douglas, Claremont colleges, who was dean of the course.

TURKEY TICKETS WILL BE ISSUED

Legion Officials To Give Persons on Grounds Ducats for Birds

One of the new features in connection with the annual American Legion turkey shoot will be the distribution of tickets for turkeys on the grounds, instead of by Upland merchants during the weeks previous to the event.

All persons participating in the games at the turkey shoot will be given tickets and these tickets will be used by the holders in obtaining birds offered by the shoot management. These turkeys will be given at intervals during the day.

With the shoot coming on Nov. 11, definite preparations are today going forward for the event and indications point to the largest turkey attraction ever sponsored by the local post. Earl E. Marsh is general chairman for the shoot.

In the past, tickets have been distributed by the merchants, but as this placed an extra burden on the merchants, it was decided by those in charge to issue the tickets to those on the grounds during the shoot.

This turkey shoot will be one of the outstanding events in the southland on Armistace day.

Mothers of Pupils Entertained at Tea

The informal teas being given for all mothers of children attending the Tenth street school, the class mothers being hostesses, are proving very successful and are accomplishing the purpose of aiding the parents in becoming better acquainted one with another and with the teachers.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Harry Phelps and Mrs. Bert Collins entertained a group of mothers in Mrs. Anna Case's room and on Friday afternoon another group attended the tea given by Mrs. I. J. Linkey and Mrs. Herbert Hall in Miss Porter's room.

GUEST NIGHT HELD BY EASTERN STARS

Chapters of Valley Send Stars to Occupy Chairs of the Local Chapter

Observing guest night, Upland chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, of which Mrs. Blanche M. Loch is worthy matron, held one of the most colorful meetings of the year in the Masonic temple last night, there being an assemblage of 140 Stars present.

For this session, officers of neighboring chapters were invited to occupy the chairs and these visiting officers conducted the chapter meeting and the initiation ritual, Mrs. Edna Preston, of Silver Wave chapter, San Bernardino, presiding as worthy matron.

Guests were present from Silver Wave and Gate City chapters in San Bernardino, the Claremont, Colton and Redlands chapters, Euclid chapter of Ontario, Star of the West chapter and Pomona chapter, No. 110, both of Pomona, and Orange Blossom chapter of Fontana.

Following the chapter meeting a delightful social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served, Mrs. Frances Garner being chairman of the general committee in charge. The Hallowe'en motif was utilized in the decorations of the dining hall and pumpkin goblins, life-size ghosts and witches, black cats and other cleverly arranged symbols imparted the atmosphere of a real spooks' rendezvous.

During the evening Mrs. Roy Barker, accompanied by Mrs. J. Lynward Grahame, favored the guests with a vocal solo, which was followed by an equally pleasing duet by Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Grahame.

HOUSES, PROPERTY IN NEW OWNERSHIP AS DEALS FINISHED

Kansas City Woman Adds 10 Acres to Holdings Here; Four Houses Sold

SALES MARK ACTIVITY

Transactions Reveal Gain in Business and Boost Real Estate

"People won't buy."

This declaration was proved to be false today with the announcement that in the Upland district four residences have been sold and a 10-acre tract on West Twenty-second street has been added to the holdings of a Kansas City woman, who already has 40 acres of citrus here.

While the sales did not involve huge sums, the transactions indicate that persons will buy Upland property and that conditions here are far better than in many southland communities.

Mrs. A. Keith Koehler purchased the 10 acres of land on West Twenty-second street, the second ten west of San Antonio avenue. The Ontario Pooled company sold the property. Mrs. Koehler already had 40 acres of lemons in the Nineteenth street district.

Harold Rowe, local service station owner, has purchased a residence on Second avenue, north of Tenth street, from Desie C. White.

Axel H. Nielson, an employe of W. C. Sheu, purchased from Dr. O. W. Kankel a residence on Foothill boulevard near Campus avenue.

Grover C. Mitchell, who has been residing in Ontario, is the new owner of a residence in the eight hundred block on East Ninth, having purchased it from Mrs. Clara O'Connel through Walter W. Horak, real estate agent.

J. L. Messenger, of the Empire Realty and Mortgage Co., reports the sale of the five room house at 1847 First street, to B. C. Van. The property formerly belonged to W. T. Sears of Chicago, who formerly lived in Ontario.

Mr. Van, who is employed in one of the Upland citrus packing houses, has been residing on West Seventh street, Ontario, but expects to occupy his property as a home.

Security Benefit Meeting Attended by Noted Guests

With three guests present from San Bernardino, the local council of the Security Benefit association met Friday night in The Sycamores and in addition to the regular lodge meeting the attendants enjoyed a social evening.

Attorney Bingham, president of Excelsior council No. 1081, in San Bernardino; Mrs. Bingham, and Mrs. Glendora Mayer, district manager, were the guests, and as a special courtesy to Attorney Bingham he was invited by the president, Geo. B. Bower, to preside during the lodge meeting. At the request of Mrs. Mayer and members of the lodge, the attorney addressed the assembly, making what was declared to be an unusually eloquent speech.

At the close of the meeting, a social hour was held during which cards were played and refreshments were served.

The next meeting of the council will be held at the home of Mrs. Emeline Stauffer, 520 Second avenue, and at that time will be heard the report of the committee that has been appointed to select some suitable hall as a permanent meeting place of the council.

E. Sullivan and Joe Sullivan returned here recently after spending the summer at Coulterville, where they were prospecting for gold. Not much prospecting was done on account of the lack of water. However, some fine specimens were brought back.

Geo. B. Witman Gets Steel in His Eye

George B. Witman sustained a very painful injury to his right eye Saturday while attempting to repair his son's football. He was working in his jewelry shop and was using a large bffer when it suddenly broke, violently casting pieces of steel over the shop. One tiny splinter of steel entered Mr. Witman's eye, embedding so deeply it had to be burned from the eyeball, an operation requiring the use of anaesthetics.

The injured eye is improving nicely, although still somewhat feverish.

Three Uplanders Back From Extended Tour

D. M. Kirkwood, George Crill and Clarence Lydick are back in Upland today after more than two months of motoring and visiting in southern and midwestern states. They returned Sunday, having left for Oklahoma and other states on Aug. 10.

In the mid-west the three parted, each going to various cities, and they joined again just as the return trip started on Oct. 14. For three days they were in Amarillo, Texas, and they made a leisurely trip overland.

ENTRY IN ORANGE SHOW IS QUESTION

Chamber Directors Considering Advisability of Citrus Exhibit

Placing of an exhibit from Upland in the National Orange show at San Bernardino next February is being considered by the Upland chamber of commerce with Fred E. Draper and Richard G. Manley on a committee to make a recommendation to the chamber directors.

In their regular meeting Friday night, the directors considered the orange show entry and debated the advisability of entering an exhibit, with the two men being named to make a report at the meeting next month.

In the 1931 show, Upland did not have an exhibit, due to the expense involved. Since then the system of making awards has been changed. It is believed now that a local entry, on which a moderate sum is expended, will have a better chance to receive a prize, money from which would partly defray the expense.

Library Plans for Book Week Nov. 15; To Favor Children

National book week is to be observed from Nov. 15 to 22 and a veritable book festival for children is being planned by Mrs. F. H. Manker, librarian of the Upland public library.

During that week there will be several exhibits of children's books, two particularly interesting collections coming from the Junior Literary Guild and the Children's Book club. Another exhibit will be a group of Just-Rite books. All of these books are attractively and some uniquely bound and special attention is given to the large, clear type, the pictures and arrangement of reading matter.

These books will be selected with care and parents will find them all good reading for their children.

Fred Clapp Appears in 20-30 Session

Fred H. Clapp, Chaffey physical education director, entertained the Upland 20-30 club in The Sycamores last night with a series of slight-of-hand tricks.

Reciting timely jokes with his tricks, the instructor provided a full night of entertainment for the members and their guests. President Ernest Tweed Stone was in charge of the meeting.

LaVerne Quartet Here Sunday Night

The well-known Harmony quartet of LaVerne college will give a musical program at the Upland Methodist church at 7:30 Sunday evening and in addition to the musical numbers, talks will be made by two young men accompanying the singers.

One member of the quartet is also a violinist and another is a vocal soloist, and these two will give special numbers.

SITES FOR POSTAL STRUCTURE WILL BE STUDIED BY GROUP

Special Chamber Committee Meets This Week to Plan Future Work

BUILDING IS ASSURED

Three Local Leaders Will Be Ready With Information on Costs

First actual move by the chamber of commerce toward selection of a tentative site for the proposed post office building will be taken this week when a committee will meet and lay plans for future action. On this committee are Edward E. Gray, city attorney; C. E. Grier, chairman of the board of supervisors, and Loring N. Kirk, postmaster. President L. R. Bradley of the chamber named the committee some time ago.

A postal building for Upland is included in the federal government's program and it is the purpose of the committee to be ready in offering a site when the time comes. Just when the new building will be erected is not known by anyone here, but on receiving information that something will be done soon, the committee meeting was called.

Various sites for the building have been mentioned. City officials are looking forward to the time when a civic center will be established and the postal building has been mentioned as part of the group of structures to be included in the plans. One suggestion for the civic center location was just north of the Pacific Electric tracks to Tenth street from First to Second avenues.

A specified sum has been alloted by the government for the buliding and for the purchase of the site. It is expected the committee will investigate the various proposed sites and their cost.

PREPARE FOR RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Local Chairman Encouraged by Interest Being Shown in Campaign

Mrs. W. B. West, chairman of the local Red cross chapter, ably assisted by Mrs. R. C. Norton, is rapidly perfecting plans for the coming roll call of the national Red Cross, and she is optimistic over the prospects for a successful campaign here.

Mrs. Norton has communicated with most of the various organizations in the community and has received encouraging assurances of support.

Again this year Mrs. Bess K. Grisham is offering a prize of $15 to be given to the organization that secures the greatest number of members during the roll call, and Mrs. Norton reports that many of the organizations are responding to the offer and are planning to assist in the campaign.

Upland always has subscribed its quota in the roll call and is expected to continue this record this year, although the quota has been increased from the usual 500 members to 650.

Miss Warner Joins in C. E. Broadcast

Many young people in Upland who are interested in the county Christian Endeavor convention to be held at the Upland Mennonite church on Nov. 6, 7 and 8, listened last night to the radio broadcast of the pre-convention program given at the San Bernardino station, KFXM.

Miss Pansy Warner of San Antonio Heights, represented Upland in the broadcast, playing her harmonica. The program was of special interest to Miss Warner's friends of the Bethany Union C. E. and a group of them gathered at the home of Mrs. C. T. LeTourneau to hear the radio broadcast.

Lessons for Youth in Football Games

Go to a football game for the good of your soul, advises Alonzo Stagg, coach of the University of Chicago. Youth, he thinks, can get as sound moral guidance from watching football as from going to Sunday school.

He once suggested that a code of ethics could be built up on a basis of football sportsmanship that would be suitable for anyone, old or young, to use as their guide-book in the conduct of life. Now he has formulated such a code, arranged in Ten Commandments, which he has given to the American Magazine. It reads as follows:

1. Keep your mind and body clean and alert. Practice self-control at all times.
2. Be true, square and honest. Don't lie. Don't cheat. Keep your word. Don't be a tattletale.
3. Perform your own job just a little bit better than is absolutely necessary. Look ahead. Don't stagnate. Use your imagination. Don't become an automaton.
4. Help the other fellow. Work for the good of the team.
5. Don't complain, whine, knock, or quit. If you are given a job, do it cheerfully. Never shirk responsibility. Always do your level best.
6. Don't be a grand-stander. Throttle your conceit. A swelled head will cut your career as short as though you had no head at all.
7. Don't be discouraged by failure. The man of average intelligence who has the courage to keep on trying will get farther than the genius who puts only half his heart into his work.
8. Always be a sportsman and a gentleman.
9. Develop courage, determination, perseverance, continuous interest, prolonged enthusiasm, and unending ambition.
10. And say a prayer each evening.

Naturally employment always interests labor. So, with a committee of the American Federation of Labor urging modification of the Volstead Act and a former brewer saying that to legalize beer would give work to 1,000,000 men, there was a flurry of excitement when one of President Hoover's secretaries a few days ago asked the census bureau for figures on employment by the brewing industry before prohibition, says the Christian Science Monitor. There were just 64,362 wage earners employed in making beer and wine during the last normal wet year in the United States, according to the census bureau, while 6295 were engaged in making distilled or "hard" liquors. Including all trades connected with making and distributing alcoholic liquor of any kind, an outside estimate places the number employed at less than 500,000. True, there would be temporary jobs for a number in reopening the breweries, but the permanent contribution to employment certainly would not be large.

"History will remember 1931 as the year of our return to common sense," says Country Home. That may be true in the case of a majority of we Americans—but it will also be remembered as the year that a lot of people with plenty of money got scared to death without cause and made things a lot harder for the rest of us than they would otherwise have been.

The great American ambition seems to be that of "keeping up with the Joneses"—but golfers discovered it was wasted effort when tackling that fellow Bobby.

Says the Port Arthur News: It's nice to have half the world's gold, but how can a merchant do business if he has all the money in town?

About the only bridegrooms who ever attract any attention are those who don't show up for the wedding. They're the wise ones, too.

ODD--BUT TRUE

Notes of Society

San Antonio Chapter Has Eventful Day

Monday was an eventful day for San Antonio chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, when the members entertained with a reciprocity luncheon at Hotel Casa Blanca, Ontario, their guests being Mrs. Lyman B. Stookey of Los Angeles, reporter-general to the Smithsonian Institution for the D. A. R., and the regents and three members from each of the several neighboring chapters.

Mrs. Frank L. Allen presided at the luncheon meeting, and the hostesses were Mrs. Harry I. deBerard and Mrs. G. W. Mott.

As the luncheon speaker, Mrs. Stookey told interestingly of her work and explained the nature of her duties as reporter-general, which include the filing in Washington of the annual reports of the various chapters.

Contributing to the program, Mrs. Shirley Shaw, soprano, delighted her audience by singing a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Schaefer.

The second feature of the meeting occurred after the luncheon when at 3 o'clock the chapter members and their guests went to Bellevue cemetery, where with impressive ceremony a bronze marker was unveiled at the grave of the late Mrs. Susan Harwood Lester, who was a real grand-daughter of the Revolution and a member of San Antonio chapter.

Mrs. R. F. Lemon presided during the unveiling ceremonies and Mrs. Shaw sang an appropriate number. The invocation was given by the Rev. Chas. L. Knight and a sketch of Mrs. Lester's life, written by her son, Edward Lester, was read by her niece, Mrs. E. W. Thayer of Los Angeles. The marker was unveiled by little Betty Shults, grand-niece of Mrs. Lester.

Mrs. Lester was a sister of Chas. E. Harwood and relatives attending the ceremony were Mr. Harwood; his sister, Mrs. A. E. Tracy, of Claremont; Mrs. B. A. Woodford and Miss Jessie Durham, also of Claremont; Mrs. Thayer, Mrs. C. J. Shults and daughter, Betty, of Los Angeles. The Rev. Mr. Knight concluded the ceremony with the benediction.

The chapters representsd were those in Claremont, Pomona, San Bernardino, two in Riverside, and Los Serranos chapter of Ontario and Upland, which was represented by the regent, Mrs. J. W. Onstott, and three members.

Pomological Club to Meet In Riverside Saturday—

Plans are being made for what promises to be an unusually interesting meeting of the Pomological club to be held Saturday at the Riverside Experimental station. A tour of the grounds is being planned with explanations of experiments being made and lectures by citrus experts. A picnic dinner will be held between sessions at the noon hour.

Among those who plan to attend from Upland are Mr. and Mrs. Miles Harnly, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Winter, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Durham, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hawkinson and Capt. and Mrs. M. L. Gottfried.

Frances Paul Girls' Style Show Proves Delightful Event

A fashion show so out of the ordinary that it was a delightful surprise to the large audience that filled the social hall in the basement of the Presbyterian church, and an equally entertaining program were presented Friday evening by the Frances Paul Girls class of the church, the class president, Mrs. A. J. Neilson, being in general charge.

Furnished by Mrs. Elaine Anderson Dudley of the Goodwill industries in Los Angeles, the costumes all were authentic creations of by-gone years, many more than 100 years old, that once were worn by social belles and happy brides. The materials, of rich velvets and heavy silks and satins, still perfectly preserved, were a marvel to those inspecting them.

As a setting for the parade of these rare old gowns, many of the 25 or 30 models being pretty young girls of the church and friends from other churches, the stage was arranged as an old-fashioned parlor, with its highback organ, grandfather's chair, marble-top tables and kerosene lamps and potted geraniums.

Among the more striking costumes were a handsome gown, 132 years old, worn by Mrs. Neilson; an elaborate wedding gown with long veil that made Mrs. Ellery Wright a most charming bride, and a wonderful gown of heavy cream colored silk with richly brocaded velvet cape, worn by J. Emery Sargent (no, Mr. Sargent, not Mrs. Sargent), who with R. Frank Lemon, in full dress suit, sang: "When You and I Were Young Maggie."

As master of ceremonies, Mrs. H. W. Hawkinson provided much amusement with her clever introductions and all appearing in the program were in quaint old costumes. Little Betty Faith Moore sang sweetly; a humorous version of "Listen to the Mocking-bird" was given by Misses Barbara Bridge, Helen Guy and Ruth Mathews. A quartet, R. F. Lemon, W. K. Beattie, Earl Johnson and A. C. Beattie sang an old-time favorite, and A. C. Beattie contributed a solo. Miss Bertha Palmer, humorously costumed, played "The Maiden's Prayer"; Miss Meta Fugit and Mrs. Clair E. Kirk each gave a "recitation," and Mrs. Neilson sang "Long, Long Ago." All other accompaniments were played by Mrs. Earl H. Johnson at the "antique" organ.

At the conclusion of the program cake and coffee were served, with punch for the children, the refreshment committee being Mrs. G. A. Brest, Mrs. Milton W. Davenport and Mrs. Eldon Atwood. Other committees were: Mrs. A. J. Neilson, Mrs. Archie Moore and Mrs. Earl Johnson, program; Mrs. Paul Adams, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Charles V. Benson, decorations; Mrs. Eva Moore, Mrs. Floyd Atwood and Miss Lela McClelland, publicity.

Mrs. Durham Hostess to Study Class

Gathering Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leon Durham on Euclid avenue, members of Mrs. H. W. Hawkinson's study class enjoyed a truly delightful session. A glowing fire in the large fireplace added an atmosphere of coziness to the attractive living room and the group of friends, who make of their meetings times of real study, greatly enjoyed the afternoon.

The lesson in literature was a study of Lord Byron and each one told of some interesting incident in the author's life or discussed some of his works.

Mrs. Hawkinson, who is a very close observer and who is adept at garnering real information as well as much humor from all of her experiences, then entertained the group with a refreshing account of her summer motor trip to Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkinson made a point of camping during the trip and Mrs. Hawkinson told of many amusing experiences encountered, as well as facts of historical interest concerning the various places they visited, including a typical old trading post at Gallup and the cliff dwellings at Mesa Verde in Utah. From there their route led into the high mountains of Colorado, where they visited with friends at a mountain ranch. Many places of historic renown were visited and at each Mrs. Hawkinson gained more information for her already well-filled mental storehouse.

Mrs. Hawkinson told of their journey through Nebraska, where the plague of grasshoppers had left no living green thing, and into Iowa, where broad fields of tall corn, the first she had seen, caused her to marvel.

With a to-be-continued promise, Mrs. Hawkinson left the story of their visit in Minnesota and the return home to be told at the next meeting of the class.

Attending the meeting Friday were Mrs. Hawkinson, Mrs. M. E. Titus, Mrs. Frank M. Baxter, Mrs. W. H. Andrews, Mrs. Mary Eckerman, Mrs. W. S. Avery, Mrs. W. C. Crane, Mrs. Gust Anderson, Mrs. E. A. Magill, Mrs. W. F. Kitchel and her guest, Mrs. Alfred Baker, Miss Betty Kitchel, Mrs. Miles Harnly, Miss Sinabel Hart, and Mrs. Durham.

DISARMAMENT IS ROTARY SUBJECT

Attorney Bert Cooper of Pomona Discusses Very Important Subject

Limiting the armament of nations on the ratio basis will not prevent war, stated Attorney Bert Cooper of Pomona, in a talk before the Upland Rotary club today noon, for the very simple reason that each nation would still be proportionately as strong as before there was any limitation. If disarmament is ever accomplished it will be solved by business judgment, as the financial side to war is now recognized by all nations and war's interference with financial and economic conditions will bring disarmament quicker than anything else. The fate of the League of Nations is now hanging in the balance, in the opinion of Mr. Cooper, and its effectiveness and future depend upon its success or failure in the present controversy between Japan and China.

President G. A. Hanson presided at today's meeting and the speaker was introduced by Chas. Perrin.

Secretary Harlow Wilson, who with Mrs. Wilson, has just returned from a trip to the middle west and east, was welcomed back today and gave a very interesting talk on their journey. One of the high spots for Mr. Wilson was meeting Paul Harris, founder of Rotary, when he made a visit to the Rotary International offices in Chicago, which occupy two complete floors of one of the world's largest buildings.

When PAIN Comes
WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips Milk of Magnesia.
One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.
Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

Business Confidence .....WEEK!
This week has been set aside by the International Association of Lions Clubs as Business Confidence Week.
It is our opinion that our great country, the United States of America, is basically, financially sound, and faces a very bright future. It is also our opinion that the primary cause of the present business depression is the fear complex which has possessed the people of our nation for the past two years. If we wish a speedy return to prosperity we must believe in the future of the United States as an industrial power. It is also necessary that we have confidence in the honesty and stability of our great financial institutions.
Confidence is the key to the solution of our present economic problems. Confidence can be promoted by putting more money into circulation. More money will be put into circulation if the public is offered investments and sales with values which will attract their cash. What Will You Do to Help?

BRIEF HISTORY OF CUCAMONGA GIVEN

Story of Early Days Awarded Prize in Contest by Woman's Club

Below is given the third and last installment of "History of Cucamonga," an essay that won second prize in the Junior high school ninth grade contest sponsored by the Upland Woman's club:

HISTORY OF CUCAMONGA
By Virginia Putnam
(Ninth Grade, Junior High)

Southern California up to this time had been out of the reach of railroad transportation. Fruit for the market was hauled to Los Angeles in wagons and from there transferred to rail and steamer. This process was slow and expensive and but a limited area of land, and that not the best for the purpose, could be cultivated. In 1885 the Santa Fe was put through this valley, insuring freight and a market for all produce. Land suitable for groves advanced rapidly in value. One man in Cucamonga in 1887 bought 12 acres of land for [illegible] companies, irrigation companies, and planting companies were organized and the whole extent of a country which had been desolate waste was soon changed into a fruitful orchard.

The Pony Stage, which operated between Los Angeles and San Bernardino had barns at the corner of Archibald avenue and San Bernardino road. A few little stores were also built around this corner.

The Methodist church and parsonage were located at the head of Archibald on Base Line. It was the only church and was built in 1884. In 1894 the church was moved to Archibald at Church street. The former location had been bought to complete a ten-acre strip. A new church was built at its present location, at Archibald and Church street, in 1908.

The little frame school house was built at San Bernardino road and Hellman avenue in about the year 1894. There was one teacher for about thirty or forty pupils. Later the present school was built on the same corner. There are now four teachers for the eight grades and the school is under the supervision of the county.

The Santa Fe was building large hotels in various progressive districts and one was started in Cucamonga. However, before it was finished, the "Big Wind," as it was called by old settlers, destroyed it. They all remember only too well the horror of that wind of 1887. Houses were blown to the ground. People rushed from their homes not knowing what to do or where to seek safety. Some tell me they saw houses raised wholly from the ground and carried above them through the sky. One woman told me that boulders could be seen whizzing overhead. She told me that her father knocked a large hole in the floor of their house to let her and her mother down into a small cellar. They were there several days. A man living across the street crawled on his hands and knees to gain the shelter of this cellar. Many of the settlers who had no place of safety banded together and set out for a secluded spot in a cove near where The Sycamore Inn is now located. They managed to survive the wind, which lasted for five or six days. They cannot seem to forget the [illegible] of that time. Some of their stories seem almost unbelievable. For instance, neighbors tell how at midnight the cypress hedge was shooting fire like flashes of [illegible] because the air was so full of electricity.

Many became afraid and discouraged, but there were those who were equally ready to go on to make the land pay. Windbreaks of eucalyptus trees were set out around the groves, and they continued to set out the young citrus trees, and to generally improve this new land.

A group of people, mostly Mormons, had come from the east to settle above Base Line on Hermosa avenue. It was called the Hermosa rancho. These hardy people set out their groves and rebuilt their homes. They built an adobe wall around the rancho to keep the jack-rabbits from chewing the young trees. This old wall is still there though some parts of it are crumbling away and green with age and moss, but others are still standing firm.

Water was another enemy to contend with. Plenty of water in summer was a great blessing as it gave them abundance of water for their groves and gardens. They had all they could use, but in the rainy season the storms often did great damage. The water would rush through the young groves and almost ruin them. It would also get into the houses, filling cellar and first floor. Altogether the early residents of Cucamonga had a "rather hectic time."

CHAFFEY WINS AND LOSES GRID GAMES

Covina Colts Defeat High School Eleven; Citrus Defeated, 13 to 0

Friday—Chaffey high school at San Bernardino.
Saturday—Chaffey jaysee at Santa Monica.

One win and one defeat was the record turned in by the Chaffey football teams over the week-end, with two important contests scheduled for this next week-end.

The Chaffey high Tigers took a 13 to 7 defeat from Covina, while on Saturday the Jaysee Panthers outplayed the Citrus Jaysee to the count of 13 to 0. While in Saturday's game the Panthers had things pretty much their own way, the high school eleven found Covina too heavy and too experienced.

Covina failed to score in the first half and the Tigers took advantage of a recovered fumble and put over a touchdown to lead the visitors 7 to 0 at the midway mark. Coming back strong, the Colts scored touchdowns in each the third and fourth quarters, the last one coming with a beautiful pass.

Starting the line-up for Chaffey were H. Kimmerle and Rothweil, ends; Kaufman and Warmer, tackles; Hovhever and Brancacio, guards; Meek, center; Bigley, quarter; Smith and Shiffer, halfbacks, and Colombero, fullback. Getting into the game as substitutes were Rausin, Heyden, Gibson, Cooper, Kesner, Scott, Doll, Hofer, Bumstead and Wheatley.

Bethany Union Aid Hallowe'en Social Largely Attended

Drawing an attendance that filled the large community hall in the Bethany Union church, the Ladies Aid society of that church successfully sponsored an old-time box supper and Hallowe'en party Friday evening. Many wore Hallowe'en costumes and masks and the Hallowe'en spirit was in evidence throughout the evening.

Corn stalks and pumpkins supplied an autumnal motif in the decorations of the hall and down the length of the long horseshoe tables were sprays of brightly colored autumn leaves, while a mellow glow from yellow shaded globes lighted the hall.

The auction of the boxes, each packed with supper for two, opened the festivities of the evening and besides affording much amusement and an abundant supper, the sale netted about $8 for the Aid treasurer.

After the supper, Mrs. William Littlewood conducted an impromptu program in which various ones told ghost stories, jokes, and other humorous stories and a number of individuals and groups sang solos, duets, etc., and all joined in assembly singing. Miss Marjorie Millard was the piano accompanist.

Two prepared numbers given by several members of the Aid proved big comedy successes, being two very humorous skits, "Big Business" and "While You Wait." They were well presented and several times threw the audience into gales of laughter.

After the program the attendants, all neighbors and friends, remained for an hour of visiting.

Passing on Right Is Unlawful in Country

Misinterpretation of the new law permitting passing on the right under certain conditions is getting many motorists into trouble and drivers are warned to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the new regulation.

Vehicles are allowed to pass each other on the right, but only on city streets and never along other roads or highways. The new ruling reads as follows: "In the event two or more vehicles on a street or highway moving in the same direction in two or more parallel lanes whether marked or unmarked, upon the right half of the paved portion of a city street having space for two or more lanes of traffic in each direction, the provisions of subdivision (a) and (b) of this section shall not be considered as prohibiting the vehicles in one such lane overtaking or passing the vehicles in another such lane, either upon the right or the left, nor shall the said provisions be construed to prohibit a driver overtaking or passing upon the right another vehicle which is making or is about to make a left turn."

"Waterloo Bridge" Is Unusual Film

Universal's "Waterloo Bridge," the picturization of the Robert E. Sherwood stage play at the Upland theater tonight, Wednesday and Thursday, includes a highly dangerous scene which studio officials requested Mae Clarke, the featured player, to refrain from playing and be replaced by a "double."

During a London air-raid, in the picture, a terrific charge of dynamite is exploded on "Waterloo Bridge" as the little actress crosses it. After several attempts, Director James Whale concluded that actual dynamite should be used unless realism was to be sacrificed, and he urged the talented Mae to make way for a "stunt actress."

This she refused to do, however, insisting that a "double" would break the rhythm of the picture, and proceeded with the scene, to the admiration of Kent Douglass, Doris Lloyd, Frederic Kerr, Bette Davis, Enid Bennett, and the other members of the cast.

Blacksmith: "Now, Pat, I'm going to bring this horse shoe out of the fire and lay it on the anvil. When I nod my head, hit it hard with a hammer." Pat did . . . and was fired when the blacksmith recovered.
